SHAFTER'S SELECTION.

Alger, In His Report, Said Results Justified It.

ROST OF MILES' IDEAS IGNORED.

The Report at Several Points Showed It Chronological History of War Given. Some Recommendations - Praise For the Red Cross and Other Associations.

Washington, Dec. 3.-The annual report of Secretary Alger contains what may be described as a chronological history of the war, consisting of a numper of short paragraphs, beginning with the declaration of war on April 21, and setting forth the date upon which any event of importance occurred, but makes no comment whatever upon the facts. The only exception to this rule is in the reference to the casualties at Santiago. Some cr.ticism having been made that there was a lack of surgeons present, the report states that there were 140 surgeous in attendance, and that of 1,421 wounded only 13 died of their wounds. Touching the surrender at Santia_o, the report shows that Shatter demanded the surrender on the 8d, and renewed this demand on the 4th. On the morning of the 11th another demand was made. On the evenang of that day General Miles arrived, and on the 13th and 14th of July, he, with General Shatter, met the Spanish commander under a flag of truce to disof the 14th, General Miles leit General Shafter's headquarters and soon there after went aboard ship preparatory to sailing for Porto Rico. July 1/ 10ral surrendered 23 000 men u, on our terms and the American hag was horsed by order of General Shatter.

The secretary coming down in his history to the middle of August, when an order was issued, and is now in execut.on to muster out 100,000 voiunteers, says:

Thus an army of about 250,000 volunteen and recruits for the regulars was called into existence from civil life, and, including the regular arm . . the total force was 274,717 men It was organzed, armed and equipped (no sup pries being on hand other than those for the regulars, save opringfield muskets), and 50,000 men of this force were transported by land and sea to battlefields in the tropics 10,00 miles apart, where they won their victories without a single defeat, and all within the errod of 113 days from the decia to the signing of the protocol.

This great achievement can be credited to no individual: it belongs to the nation. It was accomplished through the intelligence and pa triotism of all who served, from the comman der in chief to the private in the ranks. I also speaks volumes for the prompt, patriotic and intelligent assistance of the people who furnished, in so short a period, the supplies necessary to prepare this great army for the field. In the heroic men who served in distant lands the country will ever offer a true meet of praise, but the mighty army in camp. read; and eager to take the field, should also be given equal cred.t. It was their presence ready at an hour's notice for any emergency that overawed the enemy and proved to him that further resistance would be in vain.

The deaths in the army from May 1 to Oct. 1 including killed, died of wounds and of dis ease, were 2,910, the smallest death rate re corded of any army in history, a remarkable fact when it is considered that over 5J,00J of our troops, born and reared in the temperate sone, were campaigning in the tropical cli mates, subject to rain and heat most unprece dented.

The secretary says of the volunteers, that to furlough them in winter would be a hardship, so he recommends, that in lieu of the furlough the officers and men be given two months' pay at the time of their discharge, thus admitting of their prompt discharge in their present camps in the south.

Under the head of increase in the permanent establishment, the secretary in view of the needs of a military force in the islands occupied by the United States, it is carnestly recommended that the regular arms be permanently increased to 100,000 men and the requisite officers; that a portion of this army be recruited from the inhabitants of those islands to be mustered into the service of the United states, and commanded by offi ters of our army, discretion, however, to be given to the president to make appointments of officers from the force so recruited.

These men are acclimated, understand the language and habits of their countrymen, and their enlistment will not only give them employment, but a so have the tendency to enable the government to get into closer touch with their people than it would otherwise be able to do. This would also relieve our own people from serving in those climates to a large extent, and would, moreover, enable the volunteers to be mustered out of the service and return to the avocat ons of civil life. Another suggestion is that there should be employed in the United States service a constabulary force for the cities of Cuba, Forto Lico and the Philippines, who have had experience and can speak the language of the islands.

Secretary Alger thinks the government will be greatly taxed to supply food to the destitute, especially in Cuca. The effort should be made, ne thinks, to give the people work instead of allowing them to dwell in idleness, living upon charity. He says:

Would it not be wise economy for the government of the United States to construct a substantial railroad, practically the whole length of the island of Cuba, with branch roads to the le ding cities on the coast. Such a road would, of course, cost a large sum, perhaps $.0,00.00, but it would give employment to the people of tuba, teach them habits of industry, be an inducement for them to cuisi-vate their farms and thus turnish supplies for the laborers and for market when the road is constructed. This, in my judgment, is abpoliticity essential to the pacification and development of that great is and. It will bring its mineral. lumber and agricultural products to market and open up communication with all parts of the island with the least possible delay. The road would be a good property, and when it has servel its purpose for the government could be sold for its cost. If such an improvement is not made, the government will no doubt expend fully that amount in

The secretary says that even if this road is to be built there is a necessity tor a large appropriation to relieve the destitute. The question of sanitation of the c ties shoad also have immediate att nt on, and a portion of the taxes collected in the island should be expended for that work. :

Some recommendations that occur in the early portion of the report are that provision be made for a statue of General Grant; that Unief Clerk I weedale be made a leutenant colonel; that provision be made for a second assistant se retary of war and that an appropriation be made for the construction of the Lake Union-Washington ship canal.

The statement of expenditures and estimates presents some formidable tigures. The expenditures for the fiscal year ended June 3) last, were $62,534,-784, and the estima es for the next fiscal year, beginn ng July 1, 1859, are $195,250,377. of this great estimate, the sum of $55,430,000 is charged to pay of the army. The estimate of extraordinary appropriations required for the s.x mon hs ending June 30, 1893, are $60,177,039, and the estimates for trat period, combined with these for the next fiscal year, reach a total of $255,42,,917.

At this point the secretary includes in his report the reports of General Miles and all the other generals who part c pated in the op rations. He then takes up the telegraphic and other correspondence relating to the war, and that matter occupies more than a fourth of the se retary's whole report. As already stated the dispatches are allowed to tel the story of the war without comment as far as possible, although in instances the secretary prefaces them with short notes, explanatory of the reasons which led to their trausmission.

Much of that part of the report deal. ing with the campaigns before Santiago and in Porto Lico, have already been published, in the various reports and controversies arising. The results, the secretary said, justified the selection of General Shatter for the command of the army sent to help the navy take Santiago.

It is shown that General Miles was recognized, at different times, as commanding general of the United States

But Miles' suggestions were generally ignored.

A number of reports of various offiors and offic als to the secretary of war, some of which are endorsed by the secre ary, are referred to. Of the military acadea y, for instance, he encorses the recommendation for an increase of the number of cadets by 20 annually, to be each senator, to supply the officers needed for the army of the future.

Of the adjutant general's recommendations, the secretary says they are junicious and merit the tavorable consideration of congress. Instead of increase of pay for omeers serving in the West Ind.es and Philippines to the next higher g.ade, as recommended by the a...jutant general, the secretary thinks that the pay of those o.ncers, as well as those in alaska, should be increased 50 per cent. while they are serving, because of the additional expense they are put to. He says the question of payment of damages to farms and o.n.r property by movement of troops will be made the subject of a special communication to congress. He recommends that $30 instead of $10 should be allowed for the apprehension of a deserter.

Treating of the quartermaster generai's report the secretary picks out an interesting lat. He shows that the government purched 36,800 horses and mules, 5.179 wagons, 559 amon ance, and 82,078 tons or coal and chartered 77 vessels and purchased to steamships. The u.e or the M.ssouri was generously donated to the Unit d States, with the services of her captain and ner crew, by her owner, B. A. Baker of Baltimore, and is a valuable hospital ship. The cost of transporting the Span.s.i prison ers to Span was $1,513,800. The graves of the soldiers at Santiago, Porto Ricc and the Philippines have been marked and these remains will be brought home as soon as the plans are completed.

In the subsistence department the secretary finds an urgent need for a regimental commissary and also for a commissary sergeant for each regiment.

Discussing the surgeon general's report, he says it was a mistake to detail regimental surgeons to large hospitals, but this could not have been avoided and division and general hospitals, which were indispensable, maintained Ample provision should be made to supply the places of surgeons who fall sick. One of the great mercies of the campaigu were the women nurses. The re- year, and 19 in Canada against 25 last port says that until one has had experience or made careful observation, he cannot realize the work that these noble women did for our sick soldiers in the hospitals, but they cannot be well employed at regimental nospitals in a campaign. Both the division and general nospitals are absolutely necessary, it the opinion of the secretary, but the general ho-pital should be provided eparate wards for each regiment, so that comrades could be kept together.

The secretary says the ned Cross and other relief associations contributed in forts of our sick soldiers, and should re. New York has been ordered to Havana.

Good Report Received Regarding the Troops In the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.-That there is r decided improvement in the health of the troops in the Pni ippines is shown oy the tollowing cable message from General Otis, commanding at Manila, received by Adjutant General Corlin:

"Percentum of sick of command Nov. 30, 10 1-6, as against 12 1-5 Oct. 31. November d aths, 26, as against 45 for Octoper. LESS FAILURES NOTED.

Dun's Review Says the Report Is Gratifying-Big Transaction In Steel Rails-Large Grain Exports.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, is ued today, said in part: The report of failures for the month of November is extremely gratifying because it shows not only a de rease in number and a smaller amount of liabilities than in any other month, excepting three summer months since the monthly record began, but because careful analysis shows a striking improvement, both in the small and in the large failures and in near,y all classes of industry and trade. Cons.dappointed by the president, and one by ering that failures are unusually smaller in summer months than in November, the monthly returns may be considered about the test ever made and shows a condition of financial soundness rarely suspassed.

Nobody can estimate the gain for the iron and steel industry which will resuit from the past week's transactions in steel rails, which are said to exceed 700,000 tons. The makers having failed to agree and to complete the consolidation under which a single seiling agency was expected to sell all the rail. for domestic uses for export, the western works entered into an agreement by themselves and fixed their scale of price at $17 for Fittsburg, $18 for Chicago and $19 tor Colorado, and the Illinois steel works are said to have taken orders in a single week covering much the greater part of next year's capacity. but eastern concerns have not been id e and have taken such large orders that the output of the year is now expected to exceed 2,000,000 tons.

Manutacturers have somewnat larger orders and are more hopeful, but a considerable share of the machinery must inevitably remain idle until the material is cheaper in comparison with the cost of wool and goods in other countries.

The wheat market has been weaker, with heavy western receipts, and has declined 1/2 cent.

It is a signineant fact, which all interested may keep well in mind, that exports of wheat about equal the greatest ever known in any crop year thus far, but are a companied by corn exports also but slightly exceeded in the vear of greatest movement heretofore. The possibility that foreign dependence on American food supplies is permanently increasing may be worth consid-

Captain McKay Denied That the Rough Riders Seized a Transport-Col. Bird Gave Testimony.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.-The war investigating commission resumed its sittings in this city, Colonel Charles Bird being on the stand. He was on duty during the war in the quartermaster general's office, having charge of the transportation division. The congestion at Tampa was due to the fact that more supplies were sent to that point than could be handled. When they learned of the congestion, an order was issued for the marking of the cars and a quartermaster's agent was sent with each car. In most cases it was impossible to send bills of lading.

Colonel Bird also said that the transports occupied between Tampa and Santiago had been fitted up only to carry the men and supplies to Havana, and this was the reason they proved inadequace for a trip of much longer duration.

Coionel William S. Patten, in charge of the supply and equippage division or the quartermaster's department, sa d no outside induence had nad any effect upon his office in the matt ing contracts for tents, clothing, etc., and that only on very rare occasions had contracts been awarded except upon competitive bids.

Captain James McKay, a civilian and an old sea captain in Florida and Cuban waters, who, under General Humphrey, had charge of the details of the transportation of the troops to Santiago said that complete rations had been put on each ship and that the vessels had not been overloaded. This was contrary to previous testimony, as was also a later statement that the vessel which each command was to occupy had been designated before embarking.

"How about the rough riders, the Roosevelt regiment?" asked Governor

"Tney were assigned to the Yucatan and there was no difficulty in their embarkation.

"It has been reported to us," continued Governor Beaver," that they seized the vessel. Was that true?"

"No; it was not true," the witness replied. "The Yucatan was placed in the canal and the rough riders walked in and took their places according to directions. They did not seize the vessel because there was no necessity that they should do so."

DONS CALLED TO TIME

Americans Told Them There Was Little Use In Treating With Them. Their Powers Too Limited.

Paris, Dec. 3 .- When, after about two hours of discussion taking a wide range at the joint peace contenence, the Spiniards were pressed for definite statements, they pleaded that they had not received instructions from Madrid. Thereupon the Americans declared, in diplomatic phraseology, that it was useless to waste time in debate with men who were not empowered to make bar gains. Although adjournment was taken till today, it is probable there will be a further postponement till Monday. The Spaniards' vers.on is that they asked to have the treaty concluded first and then the minor matters discussed. According to reports from American sources the Spanish commissioners endeavored to draw hints as to how far the Americans were willing to compromise the demands under discussion without disclosing what conce sione Spain was wilning to make.

As the negotiations proceed the prospects of consuming much time increase. Several very important propositions, presenting many phases, i.vit : discussion and must afterwards be embodied in the agreements. This task of embodying may be long drawn out, every word and comma requiring consideration. On the questions yet unsettled, which do not concern territorial or financial interests, both commissions display laudable anxiety to promote the welfare of the mnabitants involved.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 .- With the acquiescence by the Spanish commusioners in the American demands set out in the original protocol all danger of a failure to reach the point of signature of a peace treaty disappeared, and that such a treaty will be for heoming, covering at least all of the protocol points, is considered assured. What is now going on in Paris is a negotiation respecting certain objects which the United States government seeks to accomplish in that manner instead of resorting to the more usual but more tedious method or correspondence between the two governments.

The u.e of the M. ssouri was generously donated to the Unit d States, with the services of her captain and ner crew, by her owner, B. A. Baker of Battimore, and is a valuable hospital ship. The cost of transporting the Span.s.i prison ers to Span was $1,513,800. The graves of the soldiers at Santiago, Porto Ricc and the Philippines have been marked and these remains will be brought home as soon as the plans are completed.

In the subsistence department the secretary finds an urgent need for a regimental commissary and also for a commissary sergeant for each regiment.

Discussing the surgeon general's report, ne says it was a mistake to detail regimental surgeons to large hospitals. but this could not have been avoided and division and general hospitals, which were indispensable, maintained Ample provision should be made to supply the places of surgeons who fall sick. One of the great mercies of the campaigu were the women nurses. The report says that until one has had experieuce or made careful observation, he cannot realize the work that these noble women did for our sick soldiers in the hospitals, but they cannot be well employed at regim. Ital nospitals in a campaign. Both the division and general hospitals are absolutely necessary, it the opinion of the secretary, but the general ho-pital should be provided separate wards for each regiment, so that comrades could be kept together.

The secretary says the ned Cross and other relief associations contributed in a very large degree to the care and comforts of our sick soluiers, and should receive the grate ut thanks of the nation. The secretary calls attention to surgeon General Sternberg's circular of instruction. tions to the army, issu d April 5, and says had it been siricly followed less sickness would have resulted.

LESS FAILURES NOTED.

Dun's Review Says the Report Is Gratifying-Big Transaction In Steel Rails-Large Grain Exports.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, is ued today, said in part: The report of failures for the month of November is extremely gratifying because it shows not only a de rease in number and a smaller amount of liabilities than in any other month, excepting three summer months since the monthly record began, but because careful analysis shows a striking improvement, both in the small and in the large failures and in near.y all classes of industry and trade. Cons.dering that failures are unusually smaller in summer months than in November, the monthly returns may be considered about the test ever made and shows a condition of financial soundness rarely suspassed. Nobody can estimate the gain for the iron and steel industry which will resuit from the past week's transactions in steel rails, which are said to exceed 700,000 tons. The makers having failed to agree and to complete the consolidation under which a single seiling agency was expected to sell all the railfor domestic uses for export, the western works entered into an agreement by themselves and fixed their scale of price at $17 for Fittsburg, $18 for Chicago and $19 for Colorado, and the Illinois steel works are said to have taken orders in a single week covering much the greater part of next year's capacity. but eastern concerns have not been id e and have taken such large orders that the output of the year is now expected to exceed 2.000,000 tons.

sa es of woo nave oven large in November, 39,8,5,800 pounds in hve weeks, against 34,122,400 pounds last year, and 26,831,000 pounds in 1892, out they have been effected by important concessions in price. Manufacturers have somewnat larger orders and are more hopeful, but a considerable share of the machinery must inevitably remain idle until the material is cheaper in comparison with the cost of wool and goods in other countries.

The wheat market has been weaker, with heavy western receipts, and has declined 1/2 cent.

It is a signiacant fact, which all interested may keep well in mind, that exports of wheat about equal the greatest ever known in any crop year thus far, but are a companied by corn exports also but slightly exceeded in the year of greatest movement herecofore. The possibility that foreign dependence on Amer can food supplies is permanently increasing may be worth considering. Failures for the week have been 281 in the United States against 306 last year, and 19 in Canada against 23 last year.

CONTRADICTED ROOSEVELT.

Captain McKay Denied That the Rough Riders Seized a Transport-Col. Bird Gave Testimony.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.-The war investigating commission resumed its sittings in this city, Colonel Charles Bird being on the stand. He was on duty during the war in the quartermaster general's office, having charge of the transportation division. The congestion at Tampa was due to the fact that more supplies were sent to that point than could be handled. When they learned of the congestion, an order was issued for the marking of the cars and a quartermaster's agent was sent with each car. In most cases it was impossible to send bills of lading.

Colonel Bird also said that the transports occupied between Tampa and Santiago had been fitted up only to carry the men and supplies to Havana, and this was the reason they proved inadequace for a trip of much longer duration.

Coionel William S. Patten, in charge of the supply and equippage division or the quartermaster's department, said no outside induence had nad any effect upon his office in the matter ing contracts for tents, clothing, etc., and that only on very rare occasions had contracts been awarded except upon competitive bids.

Captain James McKay, a civilian and an old sea captain in Florida and Cuban waters, who, under General Humphrey, had charge of the details of the transportation of the troops to Santiago said that complete rations had been put on each ship and that the vessels had not been overloaded. This was contrary to previous testimony, as was also a later statement that the ve sel which each command was to occupy had been designated before embarking.

"How about the rough riders, the Roosevelt regiment?" asked Governor

"They were assigned to the Yucatan and there was no difficulty in their embarkation.'

"It has been reported to us," continued Governor Beaver," that they seized the vessel. Was that true?'

"No; it was not true," the witness replied. "The Yucatan was placed in the canal and the rough riders walked in and took their places according to directions. They d.d not seize the vessel because there was no necessity that they should do so."

HAVANA VOLUNTEERS RELIEVED.

DONS CALLED TO TIME

Americans Told Them There Was Little Use In Treating With Them. Their Powers Too Limited.

Paris, Dec. 3 .- When, after about two hours of discussion taking a wide range at the joint peace contenence, the Spiniards were pressed for definite statements, they pleaded that they had not received instructions from Madrid. Thereupon the Americans declared, in diplomatic phraseology, that it was useless to waste time in debate with men who were not empowered to make bar gains. Although adjournment was taken till today, it is probable there will be a further postponement till Monday. The Spaniards' vers.on is that they asked to have the treaty concluded first and then the minor matters discussed. According to reports from American sources the Spanish commissioners endeavored to draw hints as to how far the Americans were willing to compromise the demands under discussion without disclosing what conce sions Spain was wilning to make.

As the negotiations proceed the prospects of consuming much time increase. Several very important propositions, presenting many phases, invit : discussion and must afterwards be embodied in the agreements. This task of embodying may be long drawn out, every word and comma requiring considera-

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 .- With the aoquiescence by the Spanish commusioners in the American demands set out in the original protocol all danger of a failure to reach the point of signature of a peace treaty disappeared, and that such a treaty will be for heoming, covering at least all of the protocol points, is considered assured. What is now going on in Paris is a negotiation respecting certain objects which the United States government seeks to accomplish in that manner instead of resorting to the more usual but more tedious method or correspondence between the two governments.

THE HUDSON AGAIN.

It Will Be Added to the Pittsburg-Cincinnati Trade.

It has been authoritatively stated that another boat would be placed in the Pittsburg and Cincinnati trade by the Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet company.

The Hudson has been named as the boat, and yesterday it arrived at Cincinnati from Memphis, where it will remain several days being overhauled. It will leave the south Monday and arrive at this port Thursday, and will make its first trip south next Friday evening. Increased business is the cause of the boat being put in the trade.

NO MEETING.

Water Works Trustees Did Not Have a Quorum.

Because two members of the water works trustees failed to appear at the office of the clerk, last night, there was no meeting of the board.

There was no important business to be transacted, and the only matter to be attended to was the payment of a few bills. This action was deferred until the next meeting.

The close carriage, a long disused state landau, was opened for this special purpose at the request of the pope's all powerful nephew, Count Pecci, and in spite of the terrific heat his holiness graciously abstained from raising a parasol, and again stopped before the camera and blessed the machine. I was told that this was the first time in 20 years that Leo's carriage had been open. Preceding and following the pontifical carriage were mounted guards, commanded by Count Camillo Pecci, and a picturesque incident was introduced into the pageant by Mgr. della Volpe, at the pope's feet, kissing the apostolic ring and imploring a blessing upon the enterprise. In accordance with this request the pope again blessed the biograph, while his delicate and intellectual features were lighted up with an expression of vivid interest. This picture was taken on April 20. Several weeks later I was admitted to the Vatican gardens, on which occasion his holiness recognized the machine and asked I were not the same man whom he had

"Willingly," he replied, smiling upon me with peculiar benignity. I rose to go, but he detained me, entering with extreme cordiality into my description of the manner in which the mutoscopes would be placed and the important use which they would have in bringing his holiness before the large number of those who were detarred from a pilgrimage to Rome and the pontifical blessing there. lesson For the Week Beginning Dec. 4-Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M.-Topie, Witnessing For Christ.

Scripture Reading .- Luke xii, 8, 9; Rev. Ili, 5.-"Whosoever shall confess Me before men, him shall the Son of Man also confess before the angels of God."

What is it to confess Christ? How can it be done? Who have the opportunities? Why is such stress laid upon it by the Master? Of what value is this confession to the cause of God? What all the tens of thoumakes it so difficult for many to do it? Do not all who really love God feel the form should this confession take? All these and many more questions arise in the mind as soon as this subject is announced. It is well to arrange them in some kind of order and undertake to find an answer to some if not to all of them. Each person should make a personal application of the text and lesson to himself. It will be helpful if arrangements can be made to have several persons briefly speak at some devotional meeting of the League upon different phases of the topic. Much clearer understanding of the duty and need of this work can thus be acquired.

It drives rises spontaneously and with strength in the soul. It seems a necessity to free the soul. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." In proportion as one loses the sense of nearness to the Lord the impulse to speak of spiritual experiences decreases. If the sense of duty is recognized, the whole thing becomes a task more and more difficult as the heart life grows cold.

There are obstacles often in the way which come from a person's own timid

I could scarcely talk. The doctors called the trouble bronchial affection, and said the laryna was badly affected. I was almost dead with consumption. My neighbors thought I would consumption. My neighbors thought I would be a month. I began taking Dr. Pierce's commenced to improve and now have as good health as ever. I owe my life to Dr. Pierce."

which come from a person's own timidity and fear lest others will resent or ridicule our speaking or lest we fail to make them understand us. Christians are often acquainted with people, even meet then frequently and intimately The Search-Light of Publicity in for years, and yet never speak a word to show their interest in God or in the spiritual welfare of their friends. This may begin in timidity, but unless it is corrected it ends in forgetfulness and indifference. This indicates spiritual coldness and may lead to loss of all religious life.

Whatever God might have done, we cannot say. Sure it is that He now intends to have men saved through the help of men. He reveals His will and the good news of salvation in Christ to His followers and sends them into the world to tell it. This gospel then becomes "the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth."

We should confess Christ by speaking in private on every suitable occasion to the unconverted as well as to ney remedy, Christians. Courteously but firmly we should impress on the minds of all we can their duty and privilege of loving service of Jesus. In the services of the church we should frequently give publie testimony to the grace and power of the Christ.

Our actions in business and society as well as at home should be constantly arose to an upright position. My back consistent with the profession of Christian life. "Actions speak louder than words." Both forms of language should be habitually in use.

Let the spirit of holiness pervade the soul and the speech and acts will exhale the perfume of gentleness and godlikeness.

STEVENSON WILL STAY

Penitentiary.

BOARD REFUSED TO PARDON HIM

The Report Made Public Yesterday Shows That His Name Is Not Among the Favored Ones-Not One Columbiana County Man Recommended For Clemency.

So far as the state board of pardons is concerned Alex W. Stevenson will remain in the penitentiary at Columbus serving the sentence of two years imposed upon him by Judge Smith for larceny.

The application for Stevenson's pardon was made some time ago, Representative Ashford, of Salineville, presenting the papers to the board as the young lawyer's attorney. All the influence that his friends in this city could gather was used to induce the board to recommend him for clemency, but to no purpose. The papers, among which was a long petition, were presented at the last session, and according to custom were given to one member to consider. He made his recommendation against a pardon and the board ratified it, making the matter public yesterday. His term will expire September of next year. An effort was also made to have Stevenson paroled, but that failed some time ago.

Although the board recommended a long list of convicts for pardon, there is not among them the name of a Columbiana county man.

Scripture Reading .- Luke xii, 8, 9; Rev. i, 5 .- "Whosoever shall confess Me before men, him shall the Son of Man also confess before the angels of God."

What is it to confess Christ? How can it be done? Who have the opportunities? Why is such stress laid upon it by the Master? Of what value is this confession to the cause of God? What all the tens of thoumakes it so difficult for many to do it? Do not all who really love God feel the impulse to acknowledge Him? What saved. these and many more questions arise in the mind as soon as this subject is announced. It is well to arrange them in some kind of order and undertake to find an answer to some if not to all of them. Each person should make a personal application of the text and lesson to himself. It will be helpful if arrangements can be made to have several persons briefly speak at some devotional meeting of the League upon different phases of the topic. Much clearer understanding of the duty and need of this work can thus be acquired.

It will readily be recognized that when one is living close to God the impulse to tell others of His love and try to induce them to seek and serve Him rises spontaneously and with strength in the soul. It seems a necessity to free the soul. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." In proportion as one loses the sense of nearness to the Lord the impulse to speak of spiritual experiences decreases. If the sense of duty is recognized, the whole thing becomes a task more and more difficultas the heart life grows cold.

which come from a person's own timidity and fear lest others will reseat or ridicule our speaking or lest we fail to make them understand us. Christians are often acquainted with people, even meet then, frequently and intimately for years, and yet never speak a word to show their interest in God or in the spiritual welfare of their friends. This may begin in timidity, but unless it is corrected it ends in forgetfulness and indifference. This indicates spiritual coldness and may lead to loss of all religious life.

Whatever God might have done, we cannot say. Sure it is that He now intends to have men saved through the help of men. He reveals His will and the good news of salvation in Christ to His followers and sends them into the world to tell it. This gospel then becomes "the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.'

Doctor Ogden Is Arranging to Quarantine Chickenpox and All Parties Coming From Dangerous Districts In Obio-The

The board of health failed to meet last evening, and the only member to put in an appearance was J. C. Kerr. He discussed the situation with Health Officer Ogden, Clerk Bursner and the reporters, and everybody went home shortly after 8 o'clock.

The report of the health officer for the month is as tollows: Births, Males 10. females 11; deaths, males 3, females 8; causes of death, gastric fever, paralysis, cancer, pneumonia 2, old age 2, consomption 4. During the month one ease of typhoid fever was reported.

The report of Sanitary Officer Burgess showed that during the month he abated 14 nui-ances, fumigated the homes of W. E. Rex and Firm Albright, whose children were ill with scarlet fever, and buried five dogs and two cats.

The bills for the month are Health Officer Ozden, $25; Sanitary Officer Burgess, $50

Doctor Ogden has written State Health Officer Probst in regard to the quarantine of all cases of chickenpox. and just as soon as he receives an answer to his communication the rules adopted by the state board will be strictly enforced in the city. The officers here are also keeping a very close watch for the smallpox, and should the city be so unfortunate as to have a case every precaution will be taken to prevent the spread. As far as possible every person who comes from the infested district is kept under surveillance, and it will not be the fault of the health officers if the disease appears here.

"MY DEAR MRS. NOSS-I wish to express to you my deepest sympathy. It must lessen your sorrow somewhat to know that your young husband fell fighting bravely for his country, the poblest death a man can know. From the Olympia I watched the fight that problem to him, one that he was confearful night and wondered how many American homes would be saddened by the martyrdom suffered by our brave men, and my sympathy went out to each and everyone of them.

"Your loss has been sadder than the others, and I am unable to express the sorrow I feel for you. Tears came to my eyes as I read the sad story of the father who never saw his child, and then the loss of all that was left to the brave mother. It is hard sometimes to believe, but our heavenly Father, in His infinite goodness, always does things for the best, and some day father, mother and daughter will be joined, never again to be parted. With tenderest sympathy, believe me your sincere friend.

"GEO. DEWEY" Jesse Noss was a private in the former company Pennsylvania National Guard of Captain Palmer together with four brothers, three of them sergeants, and was at that time but 16 years of age. At the time of his death he was a lance corporal in command of his squad of eight men. The force were lying on their faces and he had risen to his knees to give a command when he was shot through the breast.

TENNYSON'S FAITH.

the Dominant Interest.

A reader of the "Life of Tennyson," by his son, will be struck by the fact that no subject interested him so deep ly as the problem of the future life. He will also observe that it was always a stantly raising, that would not stay settled. To be sure, he was a believer in immortality, but not a restful believer. He was all the time digging up the roots of his faith to be sure they were alive. The old question would not stay unanswered. The reader of his poetry observes the same thing. He is always on the side of faith, but of a somewhat disturbed faith. He belonged to that "metaphysical society" which invited into its membership believers of all shades, with all shades of unbelievers, whose object was to raise and answer doubts about God and the future life. He was the spokesman of the scientific doubt of the age, fluttering over the dovecots of faith, but hardly settling and resting and nesting therein.

One observes the contrast with this fluttering faith who reads the poems of Milton, with their abiding faith in the future life. This is the spiritual contrast between "In Memoriam" and "Lycidas." In Milton's requiem, even under its paganized form, there is a robust and jubilant faith in God and eternal life. No question enters. The mind and heart are satisfied. The dear friend is beyond all doubt among the that Tennyson's mental structure perhaps could find positiveness and rest on questions of politics or poetry, but must perennially dubitate-to be sure, with the hopeful balance of probability -over questions of faith. PREPARING FOR THE SMALLPOX

Doctor Ogden Is Arranging to Quarantine Chickenpox and All Parties Coming yrom Dangerous Districts In Ohio-The Reports.

The board of health failed to meet last evening, and the only member to put in an appearance was J. C. Kerr. He discussed the situation with Health Officer Ogden, Clerk Bursner and the reporters, and everybody went home shortly after 8 o'clock.

The report of the health officer for the month is as tollows: Births, Males 10. females 11; deaths, males 3, females 8; causes of death, gastric fever, paralysis, cancer, pneumonia 2, old age 2, consamption 4. During the month one ease of typhoid fever was reported.

The report of Sanitary Officer Burgess showed that during the month he abated 14 nui-ances, fumigated the homes of W. E. Rex and Firm Albright, whose children were ill with scarlet fever, and buried five dogs and two cats.

The bills for the month are Health Officer Orden, $25; Sanitary Officer Burgess, $50

Doctor Ogden has written State Health Officer Probst in regard to the quarantine of all cases of chickenpox. and just as soon as he receives an answer to his communication the rules adopted by the state board will be strictly enforced in the city. The officers here are also keeping a very close watch for the smallpox, and should the city be so unfortunate as to have a case every precaution will be taken to prevent the spread. As far as possible every person who comes from the infested district is kept under surveillance, and it will not be the fault of the health officers if the disease appears here.

ADMIRAL DEWEY

Writes a Beautiful Letter of Sympathy to Mrs. Nors.

Mrs Noss, of Mt. Pleasant, wife of Jesse Noss, of the Tenth regiment, who was killed at Malate, July 31, has received a letter from Admiral Dewey. Mrs Noss' infant daughter, born after ber husband went to Manila, and who died, was named for Dewey. The admiral writes:

press to you my deepest sympathy. It must lessen your sorrow somewhat to know that your young husband fell fighting bravely for his country, the noblest death a man can know. From the Olympia I watched the fight that fearful night and wondered how many American homes would be saddened by the martyrdom suffered by our brave men, and my sympathy went out to each and everyone of them.

sorrow I feel for you. Tears came to my on the side of faith, but of a somewhat tyes as I read the sad story of the father who never saw his child, and then the loss of all that was left to the prave mother. It is hard sometimes to believe, but our heavenly Father, in His infinite goodness, always does things for the best, He was the spokesman of the scientific and some day father, mother and daughter will be joined, never again to be parted. With tenderest sympathy, believe me your sincere friend.

"GEO. DEWEY" Jesse Noss was a private in the former company Pennsylvania National Guard of Captain Palmer together with four brothers, three of them sergeants, and was at that time but 16 years of age. At the time of his death he was a lance corporal in command of his squad of eight men. The force were lying on their faces and he had risen to his knees to give a command when he was shot haps could find positiveness and rest on through the breast.

IMPROVEMENTS

Are Being Made In Fire Furnishings and Equipment.

The iron beds which have been in use at the East End fire station since the building was first occupied will be replaced next week by new ones. Those that are now in use are not up to the standard, hence the change.

At the central and East End stations several new Babcocks will soon be placed by the fire committee.

A reader of the "Life of Tennyson," by his son, will be struck by the fact that no subject interested him so deep ly as the problem of the future life. He will also observe that it was always a problem to him, one that he was constantly raising, that would not stay settled. To be sure, he was a believer in immortality, but not a restful believer. CUBA'S FUTURE.

While no one expects the United States'to break its word in regard to Ouba, there can be no doubt that an effort will be made to make it an American possession. Even now the people of the island, with the possible exception of those politicians in search of good positions, realize the advantages to be gained from something better than a close alliance with this government, and after the matter has been more fully explained there is every reason to believe they will look upon annexation with enthusiasm. That some Americans will oppose annexation is to be expected, but if it is a good thing for Cuba and its people desire it, the plan should be carried out at the earliest pos-

QUAINT ORGANIZATION.

California Town Has a Deaf and Danab Debating Society.

Berkeley, Cal., can boast of the most extraordinary debating society in America. For one thing it is the quietest debating society in America, and that alone is enough to make it remarkable.

It is a society in which the pros and cons of the questions of the day are discussed and never a word is spoken. It is a society in which debates wax warm and eloquent, in which judges weigh argument and award the palm, and never a sound is heard. It is a society in which no human note falls on the ear, in which no ear is needed. It is, in short, the debating society of the deaf and dumb, where people talk with their fingers and listen with their eyes.

It is called the De l'Epee Pacific Lyceum league, in grateful memory of the Abbe de l'Epee, the benevolent French priest who originated the sign language and first brought the deaf and dumb into intelligent communication with the world around them. It is made up of some 25 or 30 of the older students, boys and girls, at the California Institute For Deaf Mutes in Berkeley, and they get quite as much fun and profit out of their silent debates as if they could make the welkin ring with their rounded periods.

The society meets in the artroom of the institute, where there are casts of

-Douglas Tilden and G. S. Redmond -to show them that all roads to achievement are not closed to them. In the artroom is a big drum to call the meeting to order, and while they cannot hear its roll, so keenly sensitive are they that they can feel the vibrationand so it serves its purpose.

The club is duly officered. Miss Isabel McDonald is the president; Miss Emma Moldenhauer is vice president, Miss Pearl Wilson is secretary and Miss Irene Lynch is chairman of the programme committee. Mr. T. d'Estrella, a pupil teacher of the school, is perhaps the strongest force in sustaining interest in the society. Three boys and three girls take part in each debate, and judges are chosen from among the members. The subjects are up to date. - San Francisco Examiner.

QUAINT ORGANIZATION.

California Town Has a Deaf and Danab Debating Society.

Berkeley, Cal., can boast of the most extraordinary debating society in America. For one thing it is the quietest debating society in America, and that aloue is enough to make it remarkable. It is a society in which the pros and cons of the questions of the day are discussed and never a word is spoken. It is a society in which debates wax warm and eloquent, in which judges weigh er a sound is heard. It is a society in which no human note falls on the ear, in which no ear is needed. It is, in short, the debating society of the deaf and dumb, where people talk with their fingers and listen with their eyes. It is called the De l'Epee Pacific Lyceum league, in grateful memory of the Abbe de l'Epee, the benevolent French priest who originated the sign language and first brought the deaf and dumb into intelligent communication with the world around them. It is made up of some 25 or 30 of the older students, boys and girls, at the California Institute For Deaf Mutes in Berkeley, and they get quite as much fun and profit out of their silent debates as if they could make the welkin ring with their

> People were on the "come and go" continually, some of them being among the most prominent families of that city. One notable case was that of Mr. George E. Sebring, who was afflicted with rheumatism. He came to Doctor Larkins yesterday and went away cured without taking medicine of any kind. On going home he found his coachman suffering terribly with pains in the stomach and bowels. He sent him at once to Doctor Larkins, who in a short time effected a cure without the use of medicine in any shape or form.

The Wellsville man went away satisfied that Doctor Larkins is what he claims to be, and that the half has not been told.-Wellsville Union.

To the Public-Well known lady residents of East Liverpool, ladies whose veracity will not for a moment be called into question by any one of their hundreds of acquaintances in this city, have been treated by Mrs. Larkins with wonderful success, and they are unstinted in their terms of praise of the lady's treatment, and warmly recommend her to any one who is suffering in a like manner and who have been unable to find relief from other sources. The old adage that "there is nothing so successful as success" has been fully and satisfactorily demonstrated by Doctor and Mrs. Larkins, as is abundantly proven by the testimony of the lady patients spoken of above.

Constable Hartman, of Beaver, was in the city last evening serving summons in the case of the state of Pennsylvania against Charles Entrose, a Belgian, who is charged with a serious offense. Hartman was seen at noon at the passenger station and told the following story :

"Yesterday afternoon I went to Wellsburg, W. Va., for the purpose of taking Entrose to Beaver. When I went to the mayor's office I found that my man was there, and asked that he be brought in from the jail. This was done, and while I was talking to the mayor the man skipped, and where he is at present I do not know. I understand he had given $800 bail on another Charles Chandler, Center; Nathan the Coliseum hall, one of the largest charge which was against him, and was to be let out later in the day. While I was waiting on a train at the Wells. burg station I heard the man had got on a boat and gone north. I thought I would head him off at this place, but arrived here too late to get it. I served several subpoenas while here, and was lons; mince pies, 1,400; apples, 18 barrels; ice cream, 90 gallons; prepared to go to Beaver this morning, but I got confused in the trains, and took the train west instead of going east.

FACTS OBSERVED

By a Wellsville Man While In the Office of Dr. Larkins Yesterday.

A Wellsville man who has heard and seen much concerning the wonderful cures effected by Doctor Larkins, of East Liverpool, without the use of medicine, but doubted, had occasion to call on the doctor yesterday and see for him-

People were on the "come and go" continually, some of them being among the most prominent families of that city. One notable case was that of Mr. George E. Sebring, who was afflicted with rheumatism. He came to Doctor Larkins yesterday and went away cured without taking medicine of any kind. On going home he found his coachman suffering terribly with pains in the stomach and bowels. He sent him at once to Doctor Larkins, who in a short time effected a cure without the use of medicine in any shape or form.

The Wellsville man went away satisfied that Doctor Larkins is what he claims to be, and that the half has not been told.-Wellsville Union.

East Liverpool, Dec. 3, 1898.

To the Public-Well known lady residents of East Liverpool, ladies whose veracity will not for a moment be called into question by any one of their hundreds of acquaintances in this city, have been treated by Mrs. Larkins with wonderful success, and they are unstinted in their terms of praise of the lady's treatment, and warmly recommend her to any one who is suffering in a like manner and who have been unable to find relief from other sources. The old adage that "there is nothing so successful as success" has been fully and satisfactorily demonstrated by Doctor and Mrs. Larkins, as is abundantly proven by the testimony of the lady patients spoken of above.

Deafness Cannot He Cured

By local applications, as they canno reach the diseased portion of the ear There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eastachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored' to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Singular Experience of Moose Hunters in the Bush of Canada.

Mr. George M. Sinn returned to Montreal recently after a short business No Gold In General Circulation trip to the Temiscamingue district, in Canada, during which he had a thrilling experience never to be forgotten. It was in connection with the accidental killing of Mr. Edward Miner, a wealthy manufacturer of Kingsville. Ont. A few days ago Mr. Miner, his brother and Mr. Beunett Squire of Windsor, Out, set out on a hunting trip, and were soon buried in the woods 30 miles from Temiscamingue. When they commenced the sport, Mr. Squire fired at a fine moose, wounded it and the enraged animal charged the hunter, who attempted to fire a second time with his repeating rifie. Something was wrong, however, and the weapon did not go off. Seeing the danger of his friend, Mr. Miner stepped forward and was in the act of raising his rifle to fire at the beast when Mr. Squire's gun went off, the ball passing directly through Mr. Miner's head, killing him instantly. The brother and unhappy friend became crazed with grief. They were 30 miles from the nearest railway station, and there was absolutely no means whatever of conveying the corpse thither except by carrying it. For 25 miles they carried the body through the terrible wilderness, and finally, exhausted and half famished for want of food, they reached the track at a small signal station, seven miles from Temiscamingue station.

It was there that Mr. Sinn found them. Utterly incapable of making another move, the two gentlemen sank to the ground, and with the body of friend and brother between them awaited the coming of assistance. The circumstances were soon explained to Mr. Sinn, and as quickly as possible be secured a hand A vote of thanks was tendered to car and got the corpse and the two men on board. When they got to Temiscamingue, it was found that no trains were running. So Mr. Sinn determined to take the party on the car all the way to Mattawa, where the body could be prepared for burial. Getting two men to help him, Mr. Sinn etarted at the lever, and the fearful journey of 41 miles was commeuced. A hand car is small for four men to ride upon it, but when an extra man and a corpse are added the difficulty of pumping the lever may be imagined. Then, too, the horror of the ride was heightened by the inky darkness of the night.

As daylight broke Mr. Sinn's efforts increased and his hands now show the strain to which they were subjected At last the little car passed a farmhouse, another and another, and soon the depot was reached. The news quickly spread through Mattawa, and while kind friends looked after the suffering travelers the Odd Fellows took care of the body. It was embalmed and sent to Mr. Squire could not find words sufficient to thank Mr. Sinu for his goodness When asked about the matter, he said: "I have not much to say I only did what I thought to be my duty."-Montreal Herald

GREAT PLATINUM MINE.

Deposits Worth $1,000,000 Found in Washington.

New York and Chicago men have accidentally found the biggest platinum mine in America in Okanogan county, Pa. Experts say it is worth $1,000,000 and probably more, as most of the world's supply is now brought from Asia at large expense. For a year past C. R. Aldvin has been developing a free milling gold ledge, owned by a New York and Chicago syndicate and located 25 miles north of Leavenworth, on the Great Northern railway Last summer a 20 stamp mill was erected, but its operation was impeded by the persistent presence of some white metal.

A few weeks ago a member of the company took a number of ore samples east with him. These were shown to Expert Magee of New York, who inbe platinum. He made tests which of the larger importing houses it showed the ore to average 72 ounces of platinum to less than two ounces of gold per ton. The white metal thus proves more valuable and abundant than gold. Experts say it is a rare occurrence to find platinum in a quartz vein in such quantities.

Aldvin's ledge is eight feet wide and has been traced across the country for five miles, indicating an inexhaustible supply. When the true value of the find was revealed, the mine owners could scarcely appreciate their good for tune. Aldvin is confident that his discovery will mark the beginning of a new epoch in northwestern mining.-Philadelphia Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.-Mr. Edward W. Harden, who was appointed, in August last, an honorary commissioner of the United States to make an investigation of the financial and industrial conditions in the rhilippine islands, has made his report to the secretary of the treasury, in the course of which he says in part:

"51 ver is the basis of the currency in the Phinppine islands. There is no gold in general circulation and has been none for more than 20 years. The Mexican dollar of a date previous to 1877 is current in the islands, and it is practically the only money in general cl.cu-

Mr. marden says Spain Kept no record of the currency in the Islands, but it is estimated that there is in circulation $6,000,000 in Ph.hppine dollars, $10,-000,000 of substatary coins, from $40. 000,000 to $.0,000,000 of Mexican col. ars and 52,000,000 of notes of the Lauco Espanol Fit.p.no, a to al of from $40,-00 ,000 to $40,000,000, p aking roughly, approximately to per capita, on a silver basis, therefore, figuring on our basis, must be cut in two.

inree banking institutions do the banking business as ue from that done by the large commercial houses. There is in Manila a savings institution and tub to pawnshop, conducted by the church and or great beneat to the poor.

The best informed men in Manna are unanimous in their opinion that under present conditions the silver currency is the on y one suited to the islands. A great dear of the trade of the Philippines is with China and Japan, the Strait settlements, India and Australia.

I. would be a long and tedious task to educate the hatives to a donar which Kingsville for burial Mr Miner and would be worth twice that now in circulation. Notwithstanding the Americaus nave a force of 15,000 soldiers in Mani a. who are pad in gold, the people of the island, will have nothing but sliver It the United States retain the Ph.nppine is ands, a special comage of silver dollars might be immed for circulation in the archipe.ago.

The Mexican do lar, in general circula iou in the Philippine is ands, conta.s 47 grams of silver .900 fine. The purchasing power or the dollar is the bullion value of the silver contained in it, and it increases or decreases in value in accordance with the quotation for bar silver in London, which are reocived every day by cable in Manila.

There is an issue of $40,000,000 of bonus which was put out by the Spanisa government in July, 1897, and which serves as a first hen upon the cus toms receipts of the port of Manila.

Practically all the export and import trade of the islands is in the hands of tore guers. There are a few Spaniards engaged in trading, but the bulk of the bus ness, in a commercial way, is done by British, German, Belgian and American citizeus.

The most reliable figures that can be obtained on exports from the islands for the year 189, give the value at the points of shipment of $41,342,280.

There are no figures obtainable giv ing the imports for the Philippine islstantly pronounced the whitish ore to ands. From figures estimated by one amounts to about $17,342,990.

Taking to e figures as being correct, there is a trade balance in favor of the islands of $23,999,290, that being the excess of exports over imports.

The four principal industries of the is ands in the order named are hemp, sugar, copra and tobacco.

Tue hemp industry supports a large proportion of the population of the southern part of Luzon and islands to the souts and, according to the opinion of those most familiar with the trade, there is no canger of an overproduction. It is all exported and there would seem to be room for the establishment of a plant for the making of cordage.

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORTED

Upon the Feasibility of Liquidating Debts. Secretary Platts Showed That the Membership Is Increasing Steadily-Director Roseborough Is Active.

The board of directors of the Young Men's Christian association met last evening, and held an interesting and important meeting.

The gymnasium committee reported that the work of repairing the gymnasium had been completed according to contract and the classes had been organized and were doing good work. The social committee made a report on the very successful social held Thanksgiving

The finance committee made a statement of the actual condition of the assetts and liabilities of the association, and also reported upon the feasibility of paving off outstanding liabilities After some discu-sion the matter was referred to them with power to act.

The report of General Secretary Platts was very encouraging, and showed that the membership of the association was constantly increasing, 63 new members being added last month. The receipts for the month came nearer paying the running expenses of the association than for some time.

A vote of thanks was tendered to General Secretary Platts and Physical Director Roseborough for their very efficient work since taking charge of the association.

Singular Experience of Moose Hunters in the Bush of Canada.

Mr. George M. Sinn returned to Montreal recently after a short business No Gold In General Circulation trip to the Temiscamingue district, in Canada, during which he had a thrilling experience never to be forgotten. It was in connection with the accidental killing of Mr. Edward Miner, a wealthy manufacturer of Kingsville. Ont. A few days ago Mr. Miner, his brother and Mr. Bennett Squire of Windsor, Out, set out on a bunting trip, and were soon buried in the woods 30 miles from Temiscamingue. When they commenced the sport, Mr. Squire fired at a fine moose, wounded it and the enraged animal charged the hunter, who attempted to fire a second time with his repeating rife. Something was wrong, bowever, and the weapon did not go off. Seeing the danger of his friend, Mr. Miner stepped forward and was in the act of raising his rifle to fire at the beast when Mr. Squire's gun went off, the ball passing directly through Mr. Miner's head, killing him instantly. The brother and unhappy friend became crazed with grief. They were 30 miles from the nearest railway station, and there was absolutely no means whatever current in the islands, and it is pracof conveying the corpse thither except by carrying it. For 25 miles they carried the body through the terrible wilderness, and finally, exhausted and half famished for want of food, they reached the track at a small signal station, seven miles from Temiscamingue station.

It was there that Mr. Sinn found them. Utterly incapable of making another move, the two gentlemen sank to the ground, and with the body of friend and brother between them awaited the coming of assistance. The circumstances were soon explained to Mr. Sinn, and as quickly as possible be secured a hand car and got the corpse and the two men on board. When they got to Temiscamingue, it was found that no trains were running. So Mr. Sinn determined to take the party on the car all the way to Mattawa, where the body could be prepared for burial. Getting two men to help him, Mr. Sinu etarted at the lever, and the fearful journey of 41 miles was commeuced. A hand car is small for four men to ride upon it, but when an extra man and a corpse are added the difficulty of pumping the lever may be imagined. Then, too, the horror of the ride was heightened by the luky darkness of the night.

As daylight broke Mr. Siun's efforts increased and his hands now show the strain to which they were subjected At last the little car passed a farmhouse, another and another, and soon the depot was reached. The news quickly spread through Mattawa, and while kind friends looked after the suffering travelers the Odd Fellows took care of the body. It was embalmed and sent to Kingsville for burial Mr Miner and Mr. Squire could not find words sufficient to thank Mr. Sinn for his goodness When asked about the matter, be said: "I have not much to say. I only did what I thought to be my duty."-Montreal Herald

GREAT PLATINUM MINE.

Deposits Worth $1,000,000 Found In Washington.

New York and Chicago men have accidentally found the biggest platinum mine in America in Okanogau county, Pa. Experts say it is worth $1,000,000 and probably more, as most of the world's supply is now brought from Asia at large expense.

For a year past C. R. Aldvin has been developing a free milling gold ledge, owned by a New York and Chicago syndicate and located 25 miles north of Leavenworth, on the Great Northern railway Last summer a 20 stamp mill was erected, but its operation was impeded by the persistent presence of some white metal.

A few weeks ago a member of the company took a number of ore samples east with him. These were shown to Expert Magee of New York, who instantly pronounced the whitish ore to be platinum. He made tests which of the larger importing houses it showed the ore to average 72 ounces of platinum to less than two ounces of gold per ton. The white metal thus proves more valuable and abundant than gold. Experts say it is a rare occurrence to find platinum in a quartz vein in such quantities.

Aldvin's ledge is eight feet wide and has been traced across the country for five miles, indicating an inexhaustible supply. When the true value of the find was revealed, the mine owners could scarcely appreciate their good for ever; nine cases out of ten are caused by tune. Aldvin is confident that his discovery will mark the beginning of a new epoch in northwestern mining.-Philadelphia Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.-Mr. Edward W. inree banking institutions do the banking business as ue from that done by the large commercial houses. There is in Manila a savings institution and ub ic pawnshop, conducted by the church and of great beneat to the poor.

The best informed men in Manna are unantmous in their opinion that under present conditions the silver currency is the on y one suited to the Islands. A great deat of the trade of the Philippines is with China and Japan, the Strait settlements, India and Australia.

I. would be a long and tedious task to educate the hatives to a donar which would be worth twice that now in circulation. Notwitustanding the Americaus nave a force of 15,000 soldiers in Mani a, who are pad in gold, the people of the island, will have nothing but silver It the United States retain the Ph.nppine is.ands, a special comage of silver dollars might be minted for circulation in the archipe.ago.

The Mexican do lar, in general circula ion in the Philippine is ands, conta.s 47 grams of silver .900 fine. The purchasing power of the dollar is the bullion value of the silver contained in it, and it increases or decreases in value in accordance with the quotation for bar silver in London, which are received every day by cable in Manila.

There is an issue of $40,000,000 of bonus which was put out by the Spanisa government in July, 1897, and which serves as a first hen upon the cus toms receipts of the port of Manila.

Practically all the export and import trade of the islands is in the hands of toreigners. There are a few Spaniards engaged in trading, but the bulk of the bus ness, in a commercial way, is done by British, German, Belgian and American citizeus.

The most reliable figures that can be obtained on exports from the islands for the year 1891 give the value at the points of shipment of $41,342,280.

There are no figures obtainable giving the imports for the Philippine islands. From figures estimated by one amounts to about $17,342,990.

Taking ted e figures as being correct, there is a trade balance in tavor of the islands of $23,999,290, that being the excess of exports over imports.

The four principal industries of the is ands in the order named are hemp, sugar, copra and tobacco.

Tue hemp industry supports a large proportion of the population of the southern part of Luzon and islands to the souta and, according to the opinion of those most familiar with the trade, there is no danger of an overproduction. It is all exported and there would seem to be room for the establishment of a plant for the making of cordage.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 4-Comment by Kev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.-"Systematic and proportionate giving."-Mal. III, 7-12.

Life is a continual receiving and giving. We receive from God, directly and indirectly, great blessings and gifts. We are expected in return to give, and even to give to God. Not that God needs our gifts, but that we need to make the gift. There is a feeling in every thoughtial soul that we must render something unto God for all His benefits. David's exclamation, "What shall I render unto the Lord for all His gifts to me?" finds an echo in every heart. Even the idol worshiping heathen in all ages has felt the operation of this same inward feeling and has responded to it. Freely we have received from God, freely we should give to God.

But how shall we give? What is the doubtedlly systematic and proportionate giving. This method is Scriptural, practicable, effective and has the promise of God's blessing.

1. Systematic and proportionate giving is Scriptural. In the Old Testament dispensation a tenth was the demand of God. Abraham probably gave a tenth of his substance to God. Jacob vowed to do so, and it may have been before this that he had failed to do what was required and customary. In Lev. xxvii, 30, it is directly and plainly asserted that a tenth shall be given to God. "All the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's." In the topical reference the prophet Malachi fearfully arraigns God's people for not having given the tithe and declares that in withholding it they have robbed God. There can be no question about the law as regards giving in Old Testament times. In the New Testament Paul asks a stated weekly offering for a special purpose, and in another place declares that as God blessed the people they were to give.

2. Systematic and proportionate giving is just. It is right. It asks of no one what he is not able to give. It requires the least of those who receive the least and the most of those who receive the most. It sets aside so much as belonging to the Lord. It makes it His and not ours and removes the temptation to use it for ourselves.

3. Systematic and proportionate giving has the promise of the blessing of God. In giving regularly to God and in proportion as He blesses us we are filling a plain duty that is owed to God. Every duty brings its blessing. But God has promised a blessing for the fulfilling of this duty. "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse that there may be meat in Mine house and prove Me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." If we fulfill the conditions of this promise, we may also have the

The latest invention is a pipe line made of glass. The glass manufacturing firm whose plant is located at Port Alleghany, Pa., is preparing to make glass tubes that can be used for sending oil or gas across the country, for carrying off sewage, supplying cities with water, etc. The glass pipe does not corrode, it is impervious to the electrolysis in underground conduits, and, it is claimed, is less likely to leak than iron pipe. SCHLEY AT SANTIAGO.

Admiral's Story of the Battle of Santiago Harbor.

ATTACK CENTERED ON FLAGSHIP.

Sampson, He Said, Had Signaled to Disregard Orders of the Commander In Chief-This Left Schley In Command-He Signaled "Close Action," and Then Came the Most Beautiful Sight He Ever Saw-Cred-It Due to Every One.

At a dinner given in his honor recently at the Brooklyn club Admiral Schley told the story of the battle of Santiago Harbor. It was a straightforward narrative, in which the admiral told several things new to history. He repeated with emphasis his famous sentiment that "the victory was big enough for us all." He said:

which you accord me, the more as I rapidly At 1 o'clock the Oregon and have been simply a humble instrument the Brooklyn had distanced all the vesin bringing about a result which has sels. added so much to the glory of our country. I had personally no ambition which did not include the highest glory to my profession and the greatest luster to my nation. I felt after that momentous day enough for us all. It is curious, howmighty results. After a patient and weary watch for many days under a tropic sun, surrounded by the most exhausting influences of climate, imperfeetly fed, vigilant day and night, when the enemy moved, it is a high tribute to my profession that it was that had been set to watch that fleet.

"Curiously enough, after the army had invested Santiago and the battle of July I had taken place, I was personally impressed with the idea that a critical stage in the proceedings had been reached, and on the Saturday night which preceded the Sunday of July 3, enemy contemplated a movement. It prevented it was that the enemy, who had occupied the hills westward of Santiago, in order to lose no time in retiring upon the main column had abandoned their blockhouses, six in number. They were immediately seized by the insurgents and burned.

"At that very moment, 9:30 o'clock at night, the Spanish squadron was ready to get under way, but perceiving these blockhouses burning they con cluded that it was a signal to us, as Cervera's life. It was a fatal decision. but coming in the daytime that was utterly out of the question. "In 1 minute and 30 seconds after they appeared every vessel was firing upon them. It was the most beautiful sight I ever saw. These six vessels appeared at the harbor mouth and came out in column; that means in line ahead and at correct distance. When they emerged, I was standing on the bridge of the Brooklyn, and the first impression I received was that it was a tail up and head lown. There was an instant movement. "The admiral had been called to the eastward to have a consultation with General Shafter. Before leaving, the signal was made to disregard the orders of the commander in chief, which was a practical announcement to the squadron that the senior officer was in charge, and that, fortunately or unfortunately, happened to be myself. The moment the enemy appeared the signal was hoisted for close action. It was followed by an immediate forward movement by the squadron.

"It was difficult to determine which of three methods would be chosen by the Spanish admiral. If he intended to make a fight, it was assumed that he would avail himself of the protection of the batteries east and west of the barbor. If he attempted to escape, it was supposed that he would scatter. If he intended to run, he would take either the eastern or the western course. It was an anxious moment, and required quick decision and quicker action.

"Fortunately he chose to run, and changed his course to the westward. All our vessels had closed in and terrific cannonading had begun. Everything that had a gun seemed to be firing. The Brooklyn was unquestionably the point of attack, because she was the fleetest ship. In the few moments that I had to think of the movements going on around me I was reminded that the storm of ald. projectiles about us resembled a mill pond during a hailstorm, but on such occasions one has little time to think of himself. I was not personally aware that a shot bad come within a hundred miles of us until a man was killed close to me and a searchlight was knocked out near by.

He put three miles to port and speeded to the westward, but the fleet Brooklyn was not to be left, and after a running fight of 54 minutes the Vizcaya was struck over 100 times, was set on fire, lost 256 of her ship's company and was a total wreck. That was not only the work of the Brooklyn. She was assisted magnificently by the Oregon and the Texas. The Colon had speeded up considerably and got very nearly out of

"I signaled to the Texas to look out for the Vizcaya and started for the Colon, feeling-as Lord Nelson did at Trafalgar-that if one vessel got away the victory would be incomplete. I said to Captain Cook that we might go to dinner; that we would have half to three-quarters of an hour before we would be within fighting range. We went to dinner and were under fire for 30 minutes, but we didn't reply. We felt that we could reserve our supply for better use than target practice. The second shot from the Oregon passed over and aft the Colon, and the fourth shot, fired from the Brooklyn, struck her on the quarter, exploded in her cabin and wrecked it completely, when the enemy fired a gun to leeward and hauled down his colors and started for the beach.

METHODISTS TO FIGHT VICE

Efforts Will Be Made to Better Condition of Havana Lower Classes.

The American Methodist Episcopal church will grapple with the moral and social problems in Havana, with no intention to raise any question of class or creed. A systematic endeavor will be made to better the condition of the Spanish bullfight, for they came out lower classes and to wipe out those sore spots which give the town so unenviable a reputation.

In order to look over the ground and arrange for an energetic campaign against vice Bishop Warren A. Candler of Oxford, Ga., arrived at Havana recently on the Mascotte. Bishop Candler is prominent in the Methodist church and a near relative of Governor Candler of Georgia. He is accompanied by his wife, the Rev. Dr. Walter P. CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 4-Comment by Kev. S. H. Doyle. Topic .- "Systematic and proportionate practicable, effective and has the promise of God's blessing.

Life is a continual receiving and giving. We receive from God, directly and indirectly, great blessings and gifts. We are expected in return to give, and even to give to God. Not that God needs our gifts, but that we need to make the gift. There is a feeling in every thoughttal soul that we must render something unto God for all His benefits. David's exclamation, "What shall I render unto the Lord for all His gifts to me?" finds an echo in every heart. Even the idol worshiping heathen in all ages has felt the operation of this same inward feeling and has responded to it. Freely we have received from God, freely we should give to God.

1. Systematic and proportionate giving is Scriptural. In the Old Testament dispensation a tenth was the demand of God. Abraham probably gave a tenth of his substance to God. Jacob vowed to do so, and it may have been before this that he had failed to do what was required and customary. In Lev. xxvii, 30, it is directly and plainly asserted that a tenth shall be given to God. "All the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's." In the topical reference the prophet Malachi fearfully arraigns God's people for not having given the tithe and declares that in withholding it they have robbed God. There can be no question about the law as regards giving in Old Testament times. In the New Testament Paul asks a stated weekly offering for a special purpose, and in another place declares that as God blessed the people they were to give.

2. Systematic and proportionate giving is just. It is right. It asks of no one what he is not able to give. It requires the least of those who receive the least and the most of those who receive the most. It sets aside so much as belonging to the Lord. It makes it His and not ours and removes the temptation to use it for ourselves.

3. Systematic and proportionate giving has the promise of the blessing of God. In giving regularly to God and in proportion as He blesses us we are filling a plain duty that is owed to God. Every duty brings its blessing. But God has promised a blessing for the fulfilling of this duty. "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse that there may be meat in Mine house and prove Me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." If we fulfill the conditions of this promise, we may also have the blessings.

I felt after that momentous day had ended that the victory was big enough for us all. It is curious, however, how little things often determine mighty results. After a patient and weary watch for many days under a tropic sun, surrounded by the most exhausting influences of climate, imperfeetly fed, vigilant day and night, when the enemy moved, it is a high tribute to my profession that it was that had been set to watch that fleet.

"Curiously enough, after the army had invested Santiago and the battle of July I had taken place, I was personally impressed with the idea that a critical stage in the proceedings had been reached, and on the Saturday night which preceded the Sunday of July 3, now so famous in our history, that the enemy contemplated a movement. SHAFTER'S SELECTION.

Alger, In His Report, Said Results Justified It.

MOST OF MILES' IDEAS IGNORED.

The Report at Several Points Showed It Chronological History of War Given. Some Recommendations - Praise For the Red Cross and Other Associations.

Washington, Dec. 3.-The annual report of Secretary Alger contains what may be described as a chronological history of the war, consisting of a numper of short paragraphs, beginning with the declaration of war on April 21, and setting forth the date upon which any event of importance occurred, but makes no comment whatever upon the facts. The only exception to this rule is in the reference to the casualties at Santiago. Some cr.ticism having been made that there was a lack of surgeons present, the report states that there were 140 surgeous in attendance, and that of 1,421 wounded only 13 died of their wounds. Touching the surrender at Santia_o, the report shows that Shatter demanded the surrender on the 8d, and renewed this demand on the 4th. On the morning of the 11th another demand was made. On the evenang of that day General Miles arrived, and on the 13th and 14th of July, he, with General Shatter, met the Spanish commander under a flag of truce to discuss the surrender. On the afternoon of the 14th, General Miles left General Shafter's headquarters and soon thereafter went aboard ship preparatory to sailing for Porto Rico. July 1/ 1oral surrendered 23 000 men u, on our terms and the American hag was hols, ed by order of General Shatter.

The secretary coming down in his history to the middle of August, when an order was issued, and is now in execut.on to muster out 100,000 voiunteers, says:

Thus an army of about 250,000 volunteer and recruits for the regulars was called into existence from civil life, and, including the regular arm . . the total force was 274,717 men It was organzed, armed and equipped (no sup pries being on hand other than those for the regulars, save springfield muskets), and 50,00 men of this force were transported by land and sea to battlefields in the tropics 10,00 miles apart, where they won their victories without a single defeat, and all within the period of 113 days from the declaration of war to the signing of the protocol. This great achievement can be credited to no individual: it belongs to the nation. It was accomplished through the intelligence and pa triotism of all who served, from the comman der in chief to the private in the ranks. I' also speaks volumes for the prompt, patriotic and intelligent assistance of the people who furnished, in so short a period, the supplies necessary to prepare this great army for the field. In the heroic men who served in distant lands the country will ever offer a true meet of praise, but the mighty army in camp. ready and eager to take the field, should also be given equal cred.t. It was their presence ready at an hour's notice for any emergency that overawed the enemy and proved to him that further resistance would be in vain.

The deaths in the army from May 1 to Oct. 1 including killed, died of wounds and of dis ease, were 2,913, the smallest death rate re corded of any army in history, a remarkable fact when it is considered that over 50,000 of our troops, born and reared in the temperate sone, were campaigning in the tropical cli mates, subject to rain and heat most unprece dented.

The secretary says of the volunteers, that to furlough them in winter would be a hardship, so he recommends, that in lieu of the furlough the officers and men be given two months' pay at the time of their discharge, thus admitting of the r prompt discharge in their present camps in the south.

Under the head of increase in the permanent establishment, the secretary says:

In view of the needs of a military force in the islands occupied by the United States, it is earnestly recommended that the regular army be permanently increased to 100,000 men and the requisite officers; that a portion of this army be recruited from the inhabitants of those islands to be mustered into the service of the United states, and commanded by offi ters of our army, discretion, however, to be given to the pres dent to make appointments of officers from the force so recruited.

These men are acclimated, understand the language and habits of their countrymen, and their enlistment will not only give them employment, but a so have the tendency to enable the government to get into closer touch with their people than it would otherwise be able to do. This would also relieve our own people from serving in those climates to a large extent, and would, moreover, enable the volunteers to be mustered out of the service and return to the avocat ons of civil life.

Another suggestion is that there should be employed in the United States service a constabulary force for the cities of Cuba, Forto kico and the Philippines, who have had experience and can speak the language of the islands.

Secretary Alger thinks the government will be greatly taxed to supply food to the destitute, especially in Cuba. The effort should be made, ne thinks, to give the people work instead of allowing them to dwell in idleness, living upon charity.

He savs: Would it not be wise economy for the government of the United States to construct a substantial railroad, practically the whole length of the island of Cuba, with branch roads to the le ding cities on the coast. Such a road would, of course, cost a large sum, perhaps $.0,000.00, but it would give employment to the people of tuba, teach them habits of industry, be an inducement for them to cuitivate their farms and thus menish supplies for the laborers and for market when the road is constructed. This, in my judgment, is abplutely essential to the pacification and development of that great island. It will bring its mineral. Immber and agricultural products to market and open up communication with all parts of the island with the least possible delay. The road would be a good property, and when it has servel its purpose for the government could be sold for its cost. If such an improvement is not made, the government will no doubt expend fully that amount in

The secretary says that even if this road is to be built there is a necessity tor a large appropriation to relieve the destitute. The question of sanitation of the c ties shoud also have immediate att nt on, and a portion of the taxes collected in the island should be expended for that work. :

Some recommendations that occur in the early portion of the report are that provision be made for a statue of General Grant; that Unief Clerk I weedale be made a leutenant colonel; that provision be made for a second assistant se retary of war and that an appropriation be made for the construction of the Lake Union-Washington ship canal.

The statement of expenditures and estimates presents some formidable tigures. The expenditures for the fiscal year ended June 30 last, were $62,534,-784, and the estima es for the next fiscal year, beginn ng July 1, 1899, are $195,250,377. of this great estimate, the sum of $55,430,000 is charged to pay of the army. The estimate of extraordinary appropriations required for the s.x mon hs ending June 30, 1893, are $60,177,039, and the estimates for that period, combined with these for the next fiscal year, reach a total of $255,421,917.

At this point the secretary includes in his report the reports of General Miles and all the other generals who part c pated in the op rations. He then takes up the telegraphic and other correspondence relating to the war, and that matter occupies more than a fourth of the se retary's whole report. As already stated the dispatches are allowed to tel the story of the war without comment as far as possible, although in instances the secretary prefaces them with short notes, explanatory of the reasons which led to their transmission.

Much of that part of the report dealing with the campaigns before Santiago and in Porto Lico, have aiready been published, in the various reports and controversies arising. The results, the secretary said, justified the selection of General Shatter for the command of the army sent to help the navy take Santiago.

It is shown that General Miles was recognized, at different times, as commanding general of the United States army. But Miles' suggestions were generally ignored.

A number of reports of various officers and offic als to the secretary of war. some of which are endorsed by the secre ary, are referred to. Of the military acadea.y, for instance, he encorses the recommendation for an increase of the number of cadets by 20 annually, to be each senator, to supply the officers needed for the army of the future.

Of the adjutant general's recommendations, the secretary says they are judicious and merit the tavorable consideration of congress. Instead of inclease of pay for omeers serving in the west Ind.es and Philippines to the next higher g.ade, as recommended by the a...jutant general, the secretary thinks that the pay of those o.ncers, as well as those in Alaska, should be increased 50 per cent. While they are serving, because of the additional expense they are put to. He says the question of payment of damages to farms and o.n.r projecty by movement of troops will be made the subject of a special communication to congress. He recommends that $30 instead of $10 should be allowed for the apprehension of a descrier. Treating of the quartermaster generai's report the secretary picks out an interesting last. He shows that the government purched 36,800 horses and mutes, 5,179 wagons, 559 amon ance. and 84,078 tons or coal and chartered 77 vessels and purchased to steamsmps. The u.e or the M. ssouri was generously donated to the Unit d States, with the services of her captain and ner crew, by her owner, B. A. Baker of Baltimore, and is a valuable hospital ship. The cost of transporting the Span.s. prison ers to Span was $1,513,800. The graves of the soldiers at Santiago, Porto Ricc and the Philippines have been marked and these remains will be brought home as soon as the pians are completed.

In the subsistence department the secretary finds an urgent need for a regimental commissary and also for a commissary sergeant for each regiment.

Discussing the surgeon general's report, ne says it was a mistake to detail regimental surgeons to large hospitals, but this could not have been avoided and division and general hospitals, which were indispensable, maintained Ample provision should be made to supply the places of surgeons who fall sick. One of the great mercies of the campaigu were the women nur es. The report says that until one has had experience or made careful observation, he cannot realize the work that these noble women did for our sick soldiers in the hospitals, but they cannot be well employed at regimental nospitals in a cam-paign. Both the division and general hospitals are absolutely necessary, it the opinion of the secretary, but the general ho-pital should be provided separate wards for each regiment, so that comrades could be kept together.

The secretary says the ned Cross and other relief associations contributed in a very large degree to the care and comforts of our sick soldiers, and should reme feels that a force of practical engineers, skille i in electricity, should be rovided and that a large number of engineers should be educated at West Point, so that an offic r can be placed permanently with each river and harbor proj ct. These projects should also eceive the recommendation of a board of skilled ergineers before appropriations are made for them.

Celve the grate ut thanks of the nation. The secretary calls attention to Surgeon General Sternberg's circular of instructions to the army, issn d April .5, and says had it been siric ly followed less sickness would have resulted.

The manufacture of the Krag Jorgensen, or a similar nagazine gun. should continue until we have, at an early date, at least 500,000 of these arms in our arsenals with a full supply of ammun.tion.

HEALTH IMPROVED.

Good Report Received Regarding the Troops In the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.-That there is e decided improvement in the health of the troops in the Pni ippines is shown oy the tollowing cable message from General Otis, commanding at Manila, received by Adjutant General Corlin:

"Percentum of sick of command Nov. 30, 10 1-6, as against 12 1-5 Oct. 31. November d aths, 26, as against 45 for Octoper. Sick rate in command about the same as among troops of other governments serving in tropical countries. one-third of the present sick suffering from typhoid and malarial fevers, one s xih from intestinal troubles and the remaining haif of ailments slight in chara ter.

LESS FAILURES NOTED.

Dun's Review Says the Report Is Gratifying-Big Transaction In Steel Rails-Large Grain Exports.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, is sued today, said in part: The report of failures for the month of November is extremely gratifying because it shows not only a de rease in number and a smaller amount of liabilities than in any other month, excepting three summer months since the monthly record began, but because careful analysis shows a striking improvement, both in the small and in the large failures and in near.y all classes of industry and trade. Cons.dappointed by the president, and one by ering that failures are unusually smaller in summer months than in November, the monthly returns may be considered about the test ever made and shows a condition of financial soundness rarely suspassed. Nobody can estimate the gain for the iron and steel industry which will resuit from the past week's transactions in steel rails, which are said to exceed 700,000 tons. The makers having failed to agree and to complete the consolidation under which a single seiling agency was expected to sell all the rails for domestic uses for export, the western works entered into an agreement by themselves and fixed their scale of price at $17 for Fittsburg, $18 for Chicago and $19 for Colorado, and the Illinois steel works are said to have taken orders in a single week covering much the greater part of next year's capacity. but eastern concerns have not been id e and have taken such large orders that the output of the year is now expected to exceed 2,000,000 tons.

sa es of woo have oven large in Novemoer, 39,875,800 pounds in hve weeks, against 34,122,400 pounds last year, and 46,831,000 pounds in 1892, out they have been effected by important concessions in price. Manufacturers have somewnat larger orders and are more hopeful, but a considerable share of the machinery must inevitably remain idle until the material is cheaper in comparison with the cost of wool and goods in other countries.

The wheat market has been weaker, with heavy western receipts, and has declined 16 cent.

It is a signineant fact, which all interested may keep well in mind, that exports of wheat about equal the greatest ever known in any crop year thus far, but are a companied by corn exports also but slightly exceeded in the ear of greatest movement heretofore. The possibility that foreign dependence on American food supplies is permanently increasing may be worth consid-

General Miles Prepared Draft of a Bill.

IT PROVIDES FOR 100,000 MEN.

Unairman Hull of the House Committee on Military Affairs, Intends to Present Some of the Provisions of the Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. - General Miles, commanding the army, has prepared the draft of a bill providing for a r gular standing army of 100,000 men. The bill, it is said, will provide for an organization of 12 companies to the regiment, with an arrangement for a third lieutenant for each company in case of need for that officer.

It will contain provision for a staff corps, largely in accordance with the recommendations of the heads of the various bureaus, as recommended by ohem in their annual reports. Chair man Hull of the house committee on military affairs, intends to present the measures in congress at the first op portunity

CONTRADICTED ROOSEVELT.

Captain McKay Denied That the Rough Riders Seized a Transport-Col. Bird Gave Testimony.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 .- The war investigating commission resumed its sittings in this city, Colonel Charles Bird being on the stand. He was on duty during the war in the quartermaster general's office, having charge of the transportation division.

The congestion at Tampa was due to the fact that more supplies were sent to that point than could be haudled. When they learned of the congestion, an order was issued for the marking of the cars and a quartermaster's agent was sent with each car. In most cases it was impossible to send bills of lading.

Colonel Bird also said that the transports occupied between Tampa and Santiago had been fitted up only to carry the men and supplies to Havana, and this was the reason they proved inadequace for a trip of much longer duration.

Colonel William S. Patten, in charge of the supply and equippage division or the quartermaster's department, said no outside induence had nad any effect upon his office in the matter of awarding contracts for tents, clothing, etc., and that only on very rare occasions had contracts been awarded except upon competitive bids.

Captain James McKay, a civilian and an old sea captain in Florida and Cuban waters, who, under General Humphrey, had charge of the details of the transportation of the troops to Santiago said that complete rations had been put on each ship and that the vessels had not been overloaded. This was contrary to previous testimony, as was also a later statement that the ve sel which each command was to occupy had been designated before embarking.

"How about the rough riders, the Roosevelt regiment?" asked Governor Beaver.

"Tney were assigned to the Yucatan and there was no difficulty in their embarkation.

"It has been reported to us," continued Governor Beaver," that they seized the vessel. Was that true?"

"No; it was not true," the witness replied. "The Yucatan was placed in the canal and the rough riders walked in and took their places according to directions. They d.d not seize the vessel because there was no necessity that they should do so."

DONS CALLED TO TIME

Americans Told Them There Was Little Use In Treating With Them, Their Powers Too Limited.

PARIS, Dec. 3 .- When, after about two hours of discussion taking a wide range at the joint peace conterence, the Spiniards were pressed for definite statements, they pleaded that they had not received instructions from Madrid. Thereupon the Americans declared, in diplomatic phraseology, that it was useless to waste time in debate with men who were not empowered to make bar gains. Although adjournment was taken till today, it is probable there will be a further postponement till Monday.

The Spaniards' vers.on is that they asked to have the treaty concluded first and then the minor matters discussed. According to reports from American sources the Spanish commissioners endeavored to draw hints as to how far the Americans were willing to compromise the demands under discussion without disclosing what conce sions Spain was wilning to make.

As the negotiations proceed the prospects of consuming much time increase. Several very important propositions, presenting many phases, invit : discussion and must afterwards be embodied in the agreements. This task of embodying may be long drawn out, every word and comma requiring consideration.

On the questions yet unsettled, which do not concern territorial or financial interests, both commissions display laudable anxiety to promote the welfare of the mnapitants involved.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 .- With the acquiescence by the Spanish commusioners in the American demands set out in the original protocol all danger of a failure to reach the point of signa ure of a peace treaty disappeared, and that such a treaty will be for heoming, covering at least all of the protocol points, is considered assured. What is now going on in Paris is a negotiation respecting certain objects which the United States government seeks to accomprish in that manner instead of resorting to the more usual but more tedious method or correspondence between the two governments.

Going After Gillett.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 3.-Intereste stockmen still declare positively tha Grant C. Gillett, the absconding Kansas cattle king, is under arrest at a point just across the Mexican border. His exact whereabouts is kept a secret by those who claim to know, for fear, is is said, that a scramble to secure a portion of the thousands of dollars Gillett is said to have taken with him will ensue. One detective has started and another is expected to go.

STEVENSON WILL STAY

Penitentiary.

BOARD REFUSED TO PARDON HIM

The Report Made Public Yesterday Shows That His Name Is Not Among the Favored Ones-Not One Columbiana County Man Recommended For Clemency.

So far as the state board of pardons is concerned Alex W. Stevenson will remain in the penitentiary at Columbus serving the sentence of two years imposed upon him by Judge Smith for

The application for Stevenson's pardon was made some time ago, Representative Ashford, of Salineville, presenting the papers to the board as the young lawyer's attorney. All the influence that his friends in this city could gather was used to induce the board to recommend him for clemency, but to no purpose. The papers, among which was a long petition, were presented at the last session, and according to custom were given to one member to consider. He made his recommendation against a pardon and the board ratified it, making the matter public yesterday. His term will expire September of next year. An effort was also made to have Stevenson paroled, but that failed some

Although the board recommended a long list of convicts for pardon, there is not among them the name of a Columbiana county man.

THE HUDSON AGAIN.

It Will Be Added to the Pittsburg-Cincinnati Trade.

It has been authoritatively stated that another boat would be placed in the Pittsburg and Cincinnati trade by the Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet company.

The Hudson has been named as the boat, and yesterday it arrived at Cincinnati from Memphis, where it will remain several days being overhauled. It will leave the south Monday and arrive at this port Thursday, and will make its first trip south next Friday evening. Increased business is the cause of the boat being put in the trade.

NO MEETING.

Water Works Trustees Did Not Have Quorum.

Because two members of the water works trustees failed to appear at the office of the clerk, last night, there was no meeting of the board.

There was no important business to be transacted, and the only matter to be attended to was the payment of a few bills. This action was deferred until I were not the same man whom he had the next meeting.

THE STORY OF HIS EXPERIENCES

His Holiness Blesses the Photographer and His Pictures - Arranges His Walks to Meet the Artist's Convenience-The Holy Father's Lively Interest In the Details of the Work.

The difficulties of securing for the mutoscope and biograph the living and moving portraiture of Leo XIII and his court may be only faintly appreciated by those unacquainted with the delicate diplomacy that the unique relations of Italian church and state impose. They said, "Holy father, will you not add to are too complicated to be detailed in the my indebtedness by giving me one more limits of this sketch.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

lesson For the Week Beginning Dec. 4-Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M .- Topic, Witnessing For Christ.

Scripture Reading .- Luke xii, 8, 9; Rev. III, 5.—"Whosoever shall confess Me be-fore men, him shall the Son of Man also confess before the angels of God."

What is it to confess Christ? How can it be done? Who have the opportunities? Why is such stress laid upon it by the Master? Of what value is this confession to the cause of God? What all the tens of thoumakes it so difficult for many to do it? Do not all who really love God feel the impulse to acknowledge Him? What saved. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Disform should this confession take? All these and many more questions arise in the mind as soon as this subject is announced. It is well to arrange them in some kind of order and undertake to find an answer to some if not to all of them. Each person should make a personal application of the text and lesson to himself. It will be helpful if arrangements briefly speak at some devotional meeting of the League upon different phases of the topic. Much clearer understandcan thus be acquired.

It will readily be recognized that when one is living close to God the impulse to tell others of His love and try to induce them to seek and serve Him rises spontaneously and with strength in the soul. It seems a necessity to free the soul. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." In proportion as one loses the sense of nearness to the Lord the impulse to speak of spiritual experiences decreases. If the sense of duty is recognized, the whole thing becomes a task more and more difficult as the heart life grows cold.

There are obstacles often in the way which come from a person's own timidity and fear lest others will resent or ridicule our speaking or lest we fail to make them understand us. Christians are often acquainted with people, even meet them frequently and intimately The Search-Light of Publicity is for years, and yet never speak a word to show their interest in God or in the spiritual welfare of their friends. This may begin in timidity, but unless it is corrected it ends in forgetfulness and indifference. This indicates spiritual coldness and may lead to loss of all religious life.

Whatever God might have done, we cannot say. Sure it is that He now intends to have men saved through the belp of men. He reveals His will and the good news of salvation in Christ to His followers and sends them into the world to tell it. This gospel then becomes "the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth."

We should confess Christ by speaking in private on every suitable occasion to the unconverted as well as to Christians. Courteously but firmly we should impress on the minds of all we can their duty and privilege of loving service of Jesus. In the services of the church we should frequently give public testimony to the grace and power of the Christ.

Our actions in business and society consistent with the profession of Christian life. "Actions speak louder than words." Both forms of language should be habitually in use.

Let the spirit of holiness pervade the soul and the speech and acts will exhale the perfume of gentleness and godlikeness.

It is a blessed secret, says the British Weekly, this of living by the day Any one can carry his burden, however heavy, till nightfall. Any one can live sweetly, patiently, lovingly, purely, till the sun goes down. And this is all that life ever really means to us-just one little day. Do today's duty. Fight today's temptations, and do not weaken and distract yourself by looking for ward to things you cannot see and could not understand if you saw them. The board of health failed to meet last evening, and the only member to put in an appearance was J. C. Kerr. He discussed the situation with Health Officer Ogden, Clerk Bursner and the reporters, and everybody went home shortly after 8 o'clock.

The report of the health officer for the month is as tollows: Births, Males 10, females 11; deaths, males 3, females 8; causes of death, gastric fever, paralysis, cancer, pneumonia 2, old age 2, consamption 4. During the month one ease of typhoid fever was reported.

The report of Sanitary Officer Burgess showed that during the month he abated 14 nui-ances, fumigated the homes of W. E. Rex and Firm Albright, whose thildren were ill with scarlet fever, and baried five dogs and two cats.

The bills for the month are Health Officer Orden, $25; Sanitary Officer Burgess, $50

Doctor Ogden has written State Health Officer Probst in regard to the quarantine of all cases of chickenpox. and just as soon as he receives an answer to his communication the rules adopted by the state board will be strictly enforced in the city. The officers here are also keeping a very close watch for the smallpox, and should the city be so unfortunate as to have a case every precaution will be taken to prevent the spread. As far as possible every person who comes from the infested district is kept under surveillance, and it will not be the fault of the health officers if the disease appears here.

TENNYSON'S FAITH.

The Problem of the Future Life Had the Dominant Interest.

A reader of the "Life of Tennyson by his son, will be struck by the fact that no subject interested him so deep ly as the problem of the future life. He problem to him, one that he was constantly raising, that would not stay setimmortality, but not a restful believer. He was all the time digging up the roots of his faith to be sure they were alive. The old question would not stay "Your loss has been sadder than the unanswered. The reader of his poetry disturbed faith. He belenged to that "metaphysical society" which invited into its membership believers of all shades, with all shades of unbelievers, whose object was to raise and answer doubts about God and the future life. He was the spokesman of the scientific doubt of the age, fluttering over the dovecots of faith, but hardly settling and resting and nesting therein.

One observes the contrast with this fluttering faith who reads the poems of Milton, with their abiding faith in the future life. This is the spiritual contrast between "In Memoriam" and "Lycidas." In Milton's requiem, even under its paganized form, there is a robust and jubilant faith in God and eternal life. No question enters. The mind and heart are satisfied. The dear friend is beyond all doubt among the saints and choirs above. One regrets that Tennyson's mental structure perhaps could find positiveness and rest on questions of politics or poetry, but must perennially dubitate-to be sure, with the hopeful balance of probability -over questions of faith. "I believe I know," he once said, "the quantity of every word in the English language except scissors," but one seems to detect a tremulousness in his best expression of faith, "I hope to meet my Pilot face to face, when I have crossed the bar. The reins of a set of single harness are each about 13 feet in length, those of a double harness about 15 feet. For business harness reins are made of leather, tanned black; the reins of carriage harness are made of russet colored than one thickness. Occasionally lines for light or for cheap barness are made of cowhide, but not often. As a rule the best of leather is used for the reins, even in cheap harness. There can be obtained from the hides of leather suitable for reins strips from seven to nine feet in length, so that reins are always of necessity made in two pieces.

The loops, or hand holds, often seen on the reins of track or road horses are commonly made of lighter leather stitched together and then sometimes stitched to the reins, but more often secured to them in such a manuer that they can be shifted on the reins to suit the convenience of the driver. The three loop hold, which is called the Boston hand hold, is commonly used for track driving. The single loop is the one used by most drivers on the road. There are patent hand holds made of metal The wooden buttons sometimes seen on reins, used as hand holds, are made in pairs, one button of each pair having a stem, with a thread cut on it, which go s through the rein and is screwed into the other button of the pair on the opposite side. - New York

THAT word imperialism gives all foes of the Republican party and all personal opponents of President McKinley an opportunity to rise in objection. They roll the word about their tongues as a sweet morsel, and yet find nothing in the policy that is good. To them it serves as the one thing they long needed, and because they hope it will not be understood by the people they are making the most of it.

CUBA'S FUTURE.

While no one expects the United States'to break its word in regard to Cuba, there can be no doubt that an effort will be made to make it an American possession. Even now the people of the island, with the possible exception of those politicians in search of good positions, realize the advantages to be gained from something better than a close alliance with this government, and after the matter has been more fully explained there is every reason to believe they will look upon annexation with enthusiasm. That some Americans will oppose annexation is to be expected, but if it is a good thing for Cuba and its people desire it, the plan should be carried out at the earliest possible moment.

QUAINT ORGANIZATION.

California Town Has a Deaf and Danab Debating Society.

Berkeley, Cal., can boast of the most extraordinary debating society in America. For one thing it is the quietest debating society in America, and that alone is enough to make it remarkable. It is a society in which the pros and cons of the questions of the day are discussed and never a word is spoken. It is a society in which debates wax warm and eloquent, in which judges weigh m., Sunday school 2:30 p. m., Christian | argument and award the palm, and never a sound is heard. It is a society in which no human note falls on the ear, in which no ear is needed. It is, in short, the debating society of the deaf and dumb, where people talk with their fingers and listen with their eyes.

It is called the De l'Epee Pacific Lyceum league, in grateful memory of the Abbe de l'Epee, the benevolent French priest who originated the sign language and first brought the deaf and dumb into intelligent communication with the world around them. It is made up of some 25 or 30 of the older students, boys and girls, at the California Institute For Deaf Mutes in Berkeley, and they get quite as much fun and profit out of their silent debates as if they could make the welkin ring with their rounded periods.

The society meets in the artroom of the institute, where there are casts of the works of the masters to delight the "No culture, and this the only town in eye, and the "honorable mention" of Kansas where napkins are used at two who are kin with them in affliction church socials!"—Kansas City Journal of Dr. Larkins Yesterday. A Wellsville man who has heard and seen much concerning the wonderful cures effected by Doctor Larkins, of East Liverpool, without the use of medicine, but doubted, had occasion to call on the doctor yesterday and see for him-

People were on the "come and go" continually, some of them being among the most prominent families of that city. One notable case was that of Mr. flicting a very painful wound. Doctor George E. Sebring, who was afflicted with rheumatism. He came to Doctor Larkins yesterday and went away cured without taking medicine of any kind. On going home he found his coachman suffering terribly with pains in the stomach and bowels. He sent him at once to Doctor Larkins, who in a short time effected a cure without the use of medicine in any shape or form.

The Wellsville man went away satisfied that Doctor Larkins is what he claims to be, and that the half has not been told.-Wellsville Union.

The board of directors of the Young Men's Christian association met last evening, and held an interesting and important meeting.

The gymnasium committee reported that the work of repairing the gymnasium had been completed according to contract and the classes had been organized and were doing good work. The social committee made a report on the very successful social held Thanksgiving evening.

The finance committee made a statement of the actual condition of the assetts and liabilities of the association, and also reported upon the feasibility of paving off outstanding liabilities After some discu-sion the matter was referred to them with power to act.

The report of General Secretary Platts was very encouraging, and showed that the membership of the association was constantly increasing, 63 new members being added last month. The receipts for the month came nearer paying the running expenses of the association than for some time.

A vote of thanks was tendered to General Secretary Platts and Physical Director Roseborough for their very efficient work since taking charge of the association.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured By local applications, as they canno reach the diseased portion of the ear There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eastachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored' to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Singular Experience of Moose Hunters in the Bush of Canada.

Mr. George M. Sinn returned to Montreal recently after a short business No Gold In General Circulation trip to the Temiscamingue district, in Canada, during which he had a thrilling experience never to be forgotten. It was in connection with the accidental killing of Mr. Edward Miner, a wealthy manufacturer of Kingsville, Ont.

A few days ago Mr. Miner, his brother and Mr. Beunett Squire of Windsor, Ont, set out on a bunting trip, and were soon buried in the woods 30 miles from Temiscamingue. When they commenced the sport, Mr. Squire fired at a fine moose, wounded it and the enraged animal charged the hunter, who attempted to fire a second time with his repeating rife. Something was wrong, however, and the weapon did not go off. Seeing the danger of his friend, Mr. Miner stepped forward and was in the act of raising his rifle to fire at the beast when Mr. Squire's gun went off, the ball passing directly through Mr. Miner's bead, killing him instantly. The brother and unhappy friend became crazed with grief. They were 30 miles from the nearest railway station, and there was absolutely no means whatever current in the islands, and it is pracof conveying the corpse thither except thealify the only money in general cl.cuby carrying it. For 25 miles they carried the body through the terrible wilderness, and finally, exhausted and haif famished for want of food, they reached the track at a small signal station, seven miles from Temiscamingue station. It was there that Mr. Sinn found them. Utterly incapable of making another move, the two gentlemen sank to the ground, and with the body of friend and brother between them awaited the wn on permitted and encouraged smugcoming of assistance. The circumstances were soon explained to Mr. Sinn, and as quickly as possible be secured a hand car and got the corpse and the two men on board. When they got to Temiscamingue, it was found that no trains were running. So Mr. Sinn determined to take the party on the car all the way to Mattawa, where the body could be prepared for burial. Getting two men to help him, Mr. Sinn started at the lever, and the fearful journey of 41 miles was commenced. A hand car is small for four men to ride upon it, but when an extra man and a corpse are added the difficulty of pumping the lever may be imagined. Then, too, the horror of the ride was heightened by the inky darkness of the night.

As daylight broke Mr. Sinn's efforts increased and his hands now show the strain to which they were subjected At last the little car passed a farmhouse, another and another, and soon the depot was reached. The news quickly spread through Mattawa, and while kind friends looked after the suffering travelers the Odd Fellows took care of the body. It was embalmed and sent to Kingsville for burial Mr Miner and Mr. Squire could not find words sufficient to thank Mr. Sinn for his goodness When asked about the matter, he said: "I have not much to say. I only did what I thought to be my duty."-Montreal Herald

GREAT PLATINUM MINE.

Deposits Worth $1,000,000 Found In Washington.

New York and Chicago men have ac cidentally found the biggest platinum mine in America in Okanogan county, Pa. Experts say it is worth $1,000,000 and probably more, as most of the world's supply is now brought from Asia at large expense.

For a year past C. R. Aldvin has been developing a free milling gold ledge, owned by a New York and Chicago syndicate and located 25 miles north of Leavenworth, on the Great Northern railway Last summer a 20 stamp mill was erected, but its operation was impeded by the persistent presence of some white metal.

A few weeks ago a member of the company took a number of ore samples east with him. These were shown to Expert Magee of New York, who instantly pronounced the whitish ore to be platinum. He made tests which showed the ore to average 72 ounces of platinum to less than two ounces of gold per ton. The white metal thus proves more valuable and abundant than gold. Experts say it is a rare occurrence to find platinum in a quartz vein in such quantities.

Aldvin's ledge is eight feet wide and has been traced across the country for five miles, indicating an inexhaustible supply. When the true value of the find was revealed, the mine owners could scarcely appreciate their good for tune. Aldvin is confident that his discovery will mark the beginning of a new epoch in northwestern mining .-Philadelphia Press.

WEIRD TRIP WITH A CORPSE. FILIPINGS USE SILVER.

In the Islands.

REFUSE TO TOUCH OUR GOLD.

totwit standing That American Troops Are Paid With It-Silver Currency Su.te | to the Islands Under Present Conditions-Exports and Imports.

Washington, Dec. 3.-Mr. Edward W. Harden, who was appointed. in August last, an honorary commissioner of the United States to make an investigation of the financial and industrial conditions in the rhilippine islands, has made his report to the secretary of the treasury, in the course of which he says in part:

"51.ver is the basis of the currency in the Phinppine islands. There is no gold in general circulation and has been none for more than 20 years. The Mexican dollar of a date previous to 1811 is aulou.

"The fluctuation in the demand for money in dimerent seasons of the year resulted in wide,y nuctuating rates of exchange and in the continued now of money extner to or from the islan.8. Ine law which prevented the importation of the serioan dodars of a date subsiquent to isii pro.ed a great haidsulp to ousiness interests, and would nave been a much greater evil had it not been for the laxity of the officials atter the occupation of Manila by the American troops permission was given the banks to import suver freely, and the result has been to keep ex-Change rates on a more stable basis.

Mr. margen says Spall Kept no record of the currency in the Islands, but it is estimated that there is in circulation $6,000,000 in Ph.hppine dollars, $10,-000,000 of substatary coins, from $40,-000,000 to $20,000,000 of Mexican dol.ars and $2,000,000 of notes of the Lanco Espanol Fit.pino, a to al of from $40,-00,000 to $40,000,000, p aking roughly, approximately to per capita, on a silver basis, therefore, figuring on our basis, must be cut in two.

Inree banking institutions do the banking business as ue from that done by the large commercial houses. There is in Manila a savings institution and ub to pawnshop, conducted by the church and or great beneat to the poor.

The best informed men in Manna are unanimous in their opinion that under present conditions the silver currency is the on y one suited to the Islands. A great deal of the trade of the Philippines is with China and Japan, the Strait settlements, India and Australia.

I. would be a long and tedious task to educate the hatives to a donar which would be worth twice that now in circulation. Notwitustanding the Americaus have a force of 15,000 soldiers in Mania, who are pad in gold, the people of the island, will have nothing but sliver It the United States retain the Ph.nppine is ands, a special comage of silver dollars might be minted for circulation in the archipe.ago.

The Mexican do lar, in general circulation in the Unilippine is ands, conta.s 4; grams of silver .900 fine. The purchasing power of the dollar is the bullion value of the silver contained in it, and it increases or decreases in value in accordance with the quotation for bar silver in London, which are received every day by cable in Manila.

There is an issue of $40,000,000 of bones which was put out by the Spanisa government in July, 1897, and which serves as a first hen upon the cus toms receipts of the port of Manila.

Practically all the export and import trade of the islands is in the hands of tore guers. There are a few Spaniards engaged in trading, but the bulk of the bus ness, in a commercial way, is done by British, German, Belgian and American citizeus. The most reliable figures that can be obtained on exports from the islands for the year 189, give the value at the points of shipment of $41,342,280.

There are no figures obtainable giving the imports for the Philippine isl ands. From figures estimated by one of the larger importing houses it amounts to about $17,342,900.

Taking to e figures as being correct, there is a trade balance in favor of the islands of $23,999,290, that being the excess of exports over imports.

The four principal industries of the is ands in the order named are hemp, sugar, copra and tobacco.

Tue hemp industry supports a large proportion of the population of the southern part of Luzon and islands to the sout and, according to the opinion of those most familiar with the trade, there is no danger of an overproduction. It is all exported and there would seem to be room for the establishment of a plant for the making of cordage.

JOSEPH BROS'.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 4-Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic .- "Systematic and proportionate giving."-Mal. III, 7-12.

Life is a continual receiving and giving. We receive from God, directly and indirectly, great blessings and gifts. We are expected in return to give, and even to give to God. Not that God needs our gifts, but that we need to make the gift. There is a feeling in every thoughtial soul that we must render something unto God for all His benefits. David's exclamation, "What shall I render unto the Lord for all His gifts to me?" finds an echo in every heart. Even the idol worshiping heathen in all ages has felt the operation of this same inward feeling and has responded to it. Freely we have received from God, freely we should give to God.

But how shall we give? What is the divine law upon this subject? It is undoubtedly systematic and proportionate giving. This method is Scriptural, practicable, effective and has the promise of God's blessing.

1. Systematic and proportionate giving is Scriptural. In the Old Testament dispensation a tenth was the demand of God. Abraham probably gave a tenth of his substance to God. Jacob vowed to do so, and it may have been before this that he had failed to do what was required and customary. In Lev. xxvii, 30, it is directly and plainly asserted that a tenth shall be given to God. "All the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's." In the topical reference the prophet Malachi fearfully arraigns God's people for not having given the tithe and declares that in withholding it they have robbed God. There can be no question about the law as regards giving in Old Testament times. In the New Testament Paul asks a stated weekly offering for a special purpose, and in another place declares that as God blessed the people they were to give.

2. Systematic and proportionate giving is just. It is right. It asks of no one what he is not able to give. It requires the least of those who receive the least and the most of those who receive the most. It sets aside so much as belonging to the Lord. It makes it His and not ours and removes the temptation to use it for ourselves.

3. Systematic and proportionate giving has the promise of the blessing of God. In giving regularly to God and in proportion as He blesses us we are filling a plain duty that is owed to God. Every duty brings its blessing. But God has promised a blessing for the fulfilling of this duty. "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse that there may be meat in Mine house and prove Me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." If we fulfill the conditions of this promise, we may also have the

Pipe Lines of Glass.

The latest invention is a pipe line made of glass. The glass manufacturing firm whose plant is located at Port Alleghany, Pa., is preparing to make glass tubes that can be used for sending oil or gas across the country, for carrying off sewage, supplying cities with water, etc. The glass pipe does not corrode, it is impervious to the electrolysis in underground conduits, and, it is claimed, is less likely to leak than iron pipe. An Ohio company is now putting in such a pipe line, and a practical test of the system will soon be pessible for a distance of 100 miles. - Bradford (Pa.) Era.

July 1 had taken place, I was personally impressed with the idea that a critical stage in the proceedings had been reached, and on the Saturday night which preceded the Sunday of July 3, enemy contemplated a movement. It was the fact, and the only thing that prevented it was that the enemy, who had occupied the hills westward of Santiago, in order to lose no time in retiring upon the main column had abandoned their blockhouses, six in number. They were immediately seized by the insurgents and burned.

"At that very moment, 9:30 o'clock these blockhouses burning they con cluded that it was a signal to us, as there were six vessels in their squadron, but coming in the daytime that was utterly out of the question.

Everything that had a gun seemed to be firing. METHODISTS TO FIGHT VICE dition of Havana Lower Classes.

The American Methodist Episcopal church will grapple with the moral and social problems in Havana, with no intention to raise any question of class or creed. A systematic endeavor will be spots which give the town so unenviable a reputation.

In order to look over the ground and eastward to have a consultation with arrange for an energetic campaign against vice Bishop Warren A. Candler is prominent in the Methodist church ron that the senior officer was in and a near relative of Governor Candler resident in Nashville; the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Fulford, and the Rev. H. W. Baker of Florida. In a recent interview Bishop Candler said:

"We are representatives of the Methothe Spanish admiral. If he intended to dist Episcopal church and have come make a fight, it was assumed that he down on a tour of inspection and to reorganize the church work, which was thrown out of gear by the war. Antique.

Says a dealer in antiquities: "I had a fat woman in here the other day. Well, sir, she was a caution, was that fat woman. She would have the antique all through her house, sir, nothing but the antique for her house decoration. Why, sir, judging by what that fat woman said and bought in this shop, I should judge she was heartbroken, sir, that she couldn't get the shades of her ancestors for her parlor windows."
